

On Saturday April 20, 2019, the Galt Museum & Archives will welcome over 1,000 children and their caregivers to our annual Eggstravaganza event!

This event has been part of the Galt Museum far as many years as we can remember. We have always been able to keep this event very affordable so that all member of the community can come and meet the Easter Bunny, see our exhibits, participate in crafts and activities, and share quality family time together.

As you know, the cost of everything has risen! As a result, this year we will have to increase the price of our event unless we can locate some additional sponsors to help us keep our price minimal. We would love to keep our event admission the same as the last 3 years ($4/child OR $3/child of annual pass holders; parents and children under 1 are free) as this price allows the community to participate and spend many hours in the museum learning and having fun.

We are in need of your support! Our local businesses are a vital part of this event!

You can participate as an Event Sponsor
